Liberty County Herald Headlines from 1969

The Liberty County Herald was the local newspaper prior to it being purchased and re-named the Coastal Courier. Here are a few headlines from the Liberty County Herald from 50 years ago. A brief explanation of what the story was about is posted here as well but not verbatim as originally printed.

Dec. 11, 1969

Jaycees play Santa for needy: Members of the Hinesville Jaycees played Santa for the Christmas party they held for the less fortunate children in the city. The children were treated to food, hair-cuts, gifts and games.

Garden club council to sponsor decorating contest: A Christmas Decorating contest will be sponsored by the Liberty County Garden Club. The contest categories included window, doors and overall decorations.

Thirty-eight persons killed on Georgia Highways: The Georgia Department of Public Safety announced that 38 people lost their lives during the Thanksgiving weekend. The Director said that the high number of fatalities indicated that the public has not placed traffic safety issues into perspective.

Dec. 18, 1969

B. I. takes two from Richmond Hill: Bradwell Institute took a pair of basketball wins over Richmond Hill. The BI boys won 56-54 while the girls won 72-32. Nathan Mims led the boys in scoring dropping 17 points.

Ranger urges caution with trees: Liberty County Forestry Unit Ranger M.F. Futch urged residents to have a fire free and safe Christmas by selecting trees that are green and fresh cut. He said tree lights should be checked for frayed wiring or worn areas and the tree stand should be one that can hold a lot of water. He suggested that trees be located away from heaters, fireplaces, TV sets and other heat sources.

Major (U.S. Army retired) and Mrs. Stanley A. Gregory of Hinesville receive awards presented posthumously to their late son, Specialist 5 William R. Gregory from Brigadier General George S. Beatty, Jr., commanding general of the U.S. Army Flight Training Center

Liberty County Health Department to hold back-to-school clinics

SPECIAL TO THE PENNYSAVER

The Liberty County Health Department offers back-to-school clinics for students who need immunizations and vision, hearing, dental, and nutrition screenings from 8:30 a.m. - 6 p.m., Thursday, July 18, July 25 and Aug. 1, at 1113 E. Oglethorpe Highway, in Hinesville.

The health department wants to help parents beat the back-to-school rush by holding clinics focused on the screenings and immunizations students need before starting school. Students entering a Georgia school for the first time – no matter what the grade level – must have a completed Certificate of Vision, Hearing, Dental, and Nutrition screening form. “First time” means never having been enrolled in a Georgia school before at any time in their lives.

In addition, children born on or after Jan. 1, 2002, who are attending seventh grade and are new entrants into Georgia schools in grades 8 through 12 must have received one dose of Tdap vaccine and one dose of meningococcal vaccine. (“New entrant” means any child entering any school in Georgia for the first time or entering after having been absent from a Georgia school for more than 12 months or one school year). The HPV vaccine is also recommended for both girls and boys ages 11–12 to protect against cancers and other diseases caused by human papillomavirus.

Students will be seen on a first come, first served basis and no appointment is necessary. For additional information, call the Liberty County Health Department at 912-876-2173.

Protect yourself from mosquito bites this summer

SPECIAL TO THE PENNYSAVER

Whether you're grilling in the backyard or relaxing around the pool, there's one pesky neighbor you shouldn't invite to the party – the mosquito. But unless you've taken precautions, these nuisance insects may show up, bringing viruses along with them.

Mosquitoes can pass viruses like West Nile Virus to humans when they bite. There have been no confirmed human cases of mosquito-borne disease in the Coastal Health District so far this year, but you should protect yourself from bites anytime mosquitoes are active.

“There are a few simple things everyone can do to prevent mosquito bites,” says Dr. Lawton Davis, Health Director of the Coastal Health District. “Mosquitoes thrive and breed in standing water, so drain any containers in your yard that may be holding water like flowerpots or pool covers. And be sure to wear an insect repellent with DEET when you're going outside.”

Observe these “Five D's of Prevention” during outdoor activities:

- Dusk/Dawn – Mosquitoes usually bite at dusk and dawn, so avoid or limit outdoor activity at these times.
- Dress – Wear loose-fitting, long sleeved shirts and pants to reduce the amount of exposed skin.

- DEET – Cover exposed skin with an insect repellent containing DEET, which is the most effective repellent against mosquito bites.

- Drain - Empty any containers holding standing water because they are excellent breeding grounds for virus-carrying mosquitoes.

- Doors – Make sure doors and windows are in good repair and fit tightly, and fix torn or damaged screens to keep mosquitoes out of the house.

More information is available at gachd.org/mosquitoes.

PAW'S CORNER

By Sam Mazzotta

Farmer Is Fed Up With Abandoned Pets

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I'm hoping you'll publish this letter and make people aware that farms are not dumping grounds for unwanted pets. This year alone, I've found a litter of kittens (no mama) outside my front gate, two dogs tied up to my cattle gate, and a dead hamster in a cage next to my trash cans.

When an animal is abandoned near our farm, we take it to the local shelter. Most likely that dog or cat is put down after a few days. Dogs that I can't catch, that begin to threaten our livestock, we have to hunt down and kill.

A farm is not the place to leave your pet. We do not have a room in the house staked out for hamster cages. We did not prepare a sunny corner of the barn for your kittens to live in (we have our own barn cats, thank you). Our dog is a highly trained working dog who helps us tend livestock; we do not have time to heal your dog of the trauma you caused by abandoning it, much less teach it how to be a farm dog.

Please don't publish my location, as it might just encourage more idiots to dump their pets at my front gate. -- Frustrated and Sad Farmer

DEAR FRUSTRATED: I hear you, and I'm sorry it's happening to you. Folks, dumping your pet is cruel, and in some states, it's a crime. Most abandoned pets suffer and die. If you cannot take care of a pet, contact the local shelter for help. Your pet is your responsibility.

Southeast Georgia Health System Diabetes Education Services Merit ADA Recognition

SPECIAL TO THE PENNYSAVER

BRUNSWICK, Georgia: July 9, 2019 -- The prestigious American Diabetes Association Education Recognition Certificate for a quality diabetes self-management education and support (DSMES) service was recently awarded to the diabetes education programs at the Southeast Georgia Health System Brunswick and Camden campuses. ADA believes that this program offers high-quality education that is an essential component of effective diabetes treatment.

The Association's Education Recognition Certificate assures that educational services meet the National Standards for Diabetes Self-Management Education and Support. The DSMES Standards were developed and tested under the auspices of the National Diabetes Advisory Board in 1983 and were revised by the diabetes community in 1994, 2000, 2007, 2012 and 2017.

DSMES services apply for Recognition voluntarily. Services that achieve Recognition status have a staff of knowledgeable health professionals who can provide participants with comprehensive information about diabetes management. "The process gives professionals a national standard by which to measure the quality of services they provide, comments Sue Ullrich, R.N., MA.Ed., CDE, diabetes program coordinator, Southeast Georgia Health System. "And, of course, it assures the consumer that he or she will likely receive high-quality service." Education Recognition status is verified by an official certificate from ADA and awarded for four years.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) 2017 National Diabetes Statistic Report there are 30.3 million people or 9.4 percent of the population in the United States who have diabetes. While an estimated 23.1 million have been diagnosed, unfortunately, 7.2 million people are not aware that they have this disease. Each day more than 3,900 people are diagnosed with diabetes. Many will first learn that they have diabetes when they are treated for one of its life-threatening complications – heart disease, stroke, kidney disease, blindness, nerve disease, and amputation. About 1.5 million new cases of diabetes were diagnosed in people aged 18 years or older in 2015. Diabetes continues to be the seventh leading cause of death in the US in 2015 as it contributed to 252,806 deaths.

Delve into local history, rediscover Fort Morris

SPECIAL TO THE PENNYSAVER

Tucked away in the marsh grass along the Medway River, you will find a place of quiet serenity that was once a fortress of protection for the neighboring town of Sunbury. Tensions were rising in the American colonies so it was decided in 1776 that the booming port of Sunbury should be protected from all enemies, including England. Soon after the earthen work walls of Fort Morris were established and garrisoned by 200 patriots to ensure only allies were allowed further inland to reach the dock.

It was customary that incoming friendly ships would signal to the fort with a single cannon shot to make their presence and intentions known. However, on November 25, 1778, a ship was spotted coming into the waters surrounding the fort but no cannon fire could be heard. It was the British! Demands of surrender were issued to the fort but the defiant leader Col. John McIntosh responded with "Come and take it!" The British forces withdrew to Florida rather than take on the soldiers of Fort Morris but the victory would be short lived. The British troops gathered additional forces and returned forty-five days later to claim victory against Fort Morris on January 9, 1779. Sunbury was destroyed and what was once a thriving community, became a forgotten ghost town.

Fort Morris found purpose again in the War of 1812 where the former earthen work walls were recommissioned to create a new fortress, Fort Defiance. Along with armed barges, the fortress protected the Georgia coast from British invasion until a peace treaty was finally formed between England and America. The conclusion of the war meant peace for Liberty County and retirement for the fort after many years of service.

Today the grounds are open to the public every day of the year to take in the beauty and history found within the earthen work walls that still stand. An on-site museum is a great addition to the experience at the fort to learn more of its history and the history of Sunbury as well. Don't be surprised to see a Continental soldier parading the grounds or even a Red Coat when visiting at certain times of the year! The site hosts a number of annual events where reenactments take place to include cannon and musket firing, traditional colonial games and soldiers in the uniforms of the past.

Five fun activities for Liberty's families

SPECIAL TO THE PENNSAVER

Summer is in full swing, and by now the novelty of not having to go to school has probably worn off for the youngsters. Break up the monotony of video games and television, get the kids out doing fun activities in the community. You'll be glad they're out of the house, and they'll be happy to try something new.

Find your inner artist.

The arts are booming in Liberty County and there is a class for everyone's interest. Geaux Pottery is a great place to create your next masterpiece on one of the many different pottery pieces offered to paint in this studio. The Hinesville Area Arts Council offers a variety of classes as well including an upcoming sewing camp. Hobby Lobby is another great option when looking for arts and crafts classes to bring out your creative side.

Catch a movie.

Liberty Cinemas will be hosting early morning movies on Tuesdays and Thursdays during the summer for younger kids. Admission is only $1.50. Check out the dates and movies playing here.

Make a splash.

Both the YMCA and the Liberty County Recreation Department have public pools open during the day. If your kids are anything like ours, the pool is a surefire way to have a good time. They'll spend hours splashing around the pool and leave hungry and tired. Be sure to stop by Farmer's Natural Foods for a smoothie on the way home.

Explore the past.

A trip to a museum or historic site will encourage some learning, in a sneaky way. Their little minds will be absorbing new information without even realizing it. Try the Independent Telecommunications Pioneer Association (ITPA) museum in Hinesville for your own amusement. You can take a trip down memory lane, and the rascals will love seeing the "ancient" telephones. Afterwards, take a walk around Bryant Commons or throw a Frisbee. Or head east towards the coastline to explore the many different museums and historic sites found there such as Fort Morris Historic Site, the Midway Museum, Dorchester Academy and Geechee Kunda Cultural Center.

Hit the arcade.

What better way to enjoy summer break with your kids than bringing out the inner kid in you? If you're in town head over to Fang's Island for delicious food options and a friendly game of air hockey or skeeball. Midway's newest restaurant, Melody's Coastal Café, is serving up fresh dishes and has an arcade that's sure to be fun for the whole family.

Sheriff Sikes host another successful summer camp

SPECIAL TO THE PENNSAVER

Liberty County Sheriff Steve Sikes hosted the annual 2019 Sheriff's Youth Camp the last week of June.

"The camp was yet again a huge success," Sikes said.

The three-day youth camp started out with water fun and a Savannah Bananas game. Day two was filled with pizza, bowling, laser tag and a static display put on by Fort Stewart Police and DNR. On the third day, the kids ended camp with an exciting and beautiful day of fishing here in Liberty County. Sikes said his camp was possible due to the generosity of sponsors. He expressed his thank to James Rogers and Danny Creasy, both of Ameris Bank in Hinesville.

"I want to thank them for their financial support for our Outreach Program," Sikes said. He also thanked Cadence Fishing for supplying the campers with rods and reels. Sikes firmly believes the camp offers the kids an opportunity to meet deputies in a positive environment. He said it helps the kids bond with their local law enforcement officials in a meaningful manner. He said it helps to create bonds of friendship and trust.

"Behind those deputy badges are noble men who enjoyed meeting and spending time with the kids," Sikes said. "And at the same time fun was had by all."
